Story Guidelines

Length: 500-750 words

Prompt: We all face hard times. Illness. Divorce. Surgery. Family struggles. Aging. Global catastrophes...and so much more. Very often, when you find yourself in the midst of a hard time, someone inevitably says, "I hope you feel better." Or they "make you feel better" in some special way. In 500-750 words (devotion length), share how these five simple words or special act of love made you actually feel better—even if it was only "mentally." Somehow the sun peeked through that little dark cloud over your day.

Your Heart on Paper.

Please know that I just want to hear your story...I won't be holding a red pen while I read. No bleeding all over your words. If you'd like to sharpen your skills, see the "Great Resources" section (to the right). Send your story to:

Great Resources

"There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you."

-Maya Angelou

I can't wait to read your stories! Something inside of me tells me they are going to make a whole lot of people "feel better!"
